

Large Molded Fiber Plant Expands Mainsaver Use

San Diego, CA and Waterville, Maine; October 24, 2018: Operating for over 100 years, the Huhtamaki plant in Waterville, Maine produces paper based plates, bowls and other molded products. The retail brand 'Chinet' has been a staple at family picnics for many years. This 24x7 operation has used Mainsaver for over 20 years for the maintenance and repair of all assets. Mainsaver is the standard CMMS for all Huhtamaki USA plants.

The Waterville plant recently decided to use Mainsaver for all MRO purchases in order to better align maintenance with procurement and capitalize on the benefits of linking the assets to inventory. A perpetual inventory with over 10,000 items will be issued when consumed. Items that reach order point will be approved and then ordered through a paperless PO system which emails the PO directly to the supplier. Non inventory purchases are initiated through a purchase requisition, approved electronically and once again a PO is sent electronically to the supplier.

To complete the supply chain, purchase orders are received and requestors are alerted through email when their parts are in eliminating the need to find the requestor. Invoices are matched and passed electronically to the ERP system for payment. This is a complete paperless workflow from request to invoice.

Mainsaver has been involved in this project from inception to delivery. Mainsaver works with personnel at all levels within the enterprise to optimize their use of Mainsaver in their respective business processes.
